AMERICAN WICK DRAIN

awd-usa.com

AMERICAN WICK DRAIN (AWD) manufactures drainage solutions from our headquarters location in Monroe, NC, USA and a second manufacturing location in Carson City, NV, USA. We have dedicated ourselves for more than three decades to one thing - managing excess moisture to help keep the ground around your sites and structures dry, solid, and secure.

We've learned a thing or two along the way. Like how to use geotextile filter fabrics and unique drainage cores to create a more earth-friendly approach using fewer materials to deliver more efficient and cost-effective results. These products create effective ways to reduce hydrostatic pressure against concrete slabs and retaining walls, along with time-proven methods for collecting, conveying and managing subsurface water.

AWD incorporates innovative methods to manufacture quality products. Products that result in thoughtful, effective solutions that respect the natural and built environment. Our extensive product line provides a high level of flexibility and is easy to customize to your project's needs.

AWD is constantly seeking successful strategic partners interested in distributing our line of high quality SITEDRAIN products or partnering with AWD to develop a customized line of Private Label products. We look forward to hearing your ideas and contributing to your success.

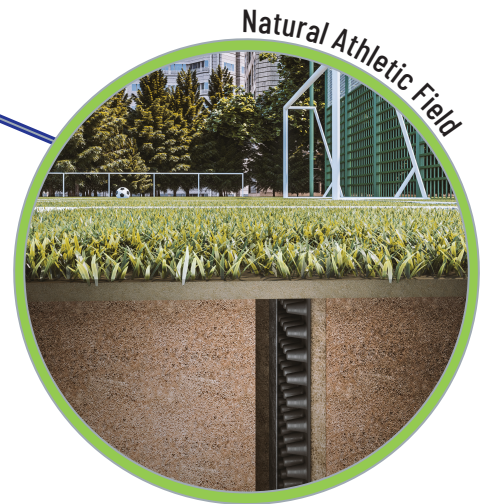

We recognize it's a privilege to work with our employees, suppliers, and customers. The best relationships are built on trust, respect, and the long haul—that's what we seek and desire. Our tenured staff provides full assistance from education to engineer and customer service support.
